

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Our Heroic Dead.

A nation respects them. The East and West.

The far-off slope of the Golden Coast. The chicken South and the North agree That the heroes who died for you and me—

Each valiant man in his own degree, Whether he fell on shore or sea, Did deeds of which This land, though rich In histories, may boast.

And the sage's book and the poet's lay Are full of the deeds of the "Men in Gray."

No lion cleft from the rock is ours, Such as a Lucerne displays; Our only wreath is in tears and flowers, And words of reverent praise.

And the roses brought to this silent yard Are red and white. Behold!

Peace has come. God gives His blessing On the fact and on the name! The South speaks no untruthful word, The North speaks no word of blame.

But she calls all men to witness That they stand up without shame.

Nay, she sends it forth to all the world That they stand up filled with pride, With true love for living comrades, And with praise for those who died; And in this many frame of mind Till death they will abide.

God and their consciences alone Give measure of right and wrong; The men may fall into the swift And the battle to the strong; But the truth will shine in history And blossom into song.

Human grief, full of glory Is assumed and disappears; When its requiem swells with music, Like the shock of shields and spears; And its passion is too full of pride To leave a space for tears.

SOME murmur when their sky is clear And wholly bright to view, If one small speck of dark appear In their great heaven of blue.

And some with thankful love are filled, If but one streak of light, One day of God's good mercy gild The darkness of their night.

In palaces are hearts that ask, In discontent and pride, Why life is such a dreary task, And all good things denied.

And hearts in poorest huts admire How love lives in their aid, Love that not ever seems to tire— Such rich provisions made.

Northern, W. P. Matthews, Thomas Boccio, W. N. Hamlet, J. E. Eiders, Robinson, L. C. Daniel, C. W. P. Brock, W. S. Murray, James Dunlop, N. V. Randolph, W. B. Yawler, Decatur, Axtell, James Werth, C. Mrs. James Dunlop reported another "Record of Honor" book collected from Georgia. Mr. Decatur Axtell reported that Mrs. J. Rufus Polk, regent of the Arkansas order, writes that each daughter of the Confederacy of that State will give one dollar a year to the Confederate Museum.

The society has selected grants with incised letters to be used for marking historical sites.

A letter from the regent of the Tennessee order was read, saying that the report of that room had been read and approved at the State convention, United Daughters of the Confederacy, recently held at Memphis. The letter stated that the report was received with vociferous cheers and a rising vote of thanks to the regent of the room, Mrs. N. V. Randolph.

The Confederate Museum literature was distributed throughout the convention hall. The rolls of honor blanks got a large and patient hearing and the regent, Mrs. M. P. Fletcher, of Lexington, Va., presented portraits, relics and historical facts of Tennessee, which will be sent to the Tennessee room at the Confederate Museum. This is the first time in ten years that recognition of the museum work has been given by the Tennessee Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. L. C. Daniel made a fine report on the scrap-book, which she has collected, and which has been of such interest and revenue to the museum.

A beautiful painting of the four Confederate flags, executed by Miss Fleming, of Lynchburg, was presented by the artist's aunt, Mrs. Alfred Stith Lee, of this city, to the Solid South room. The painting is about thirty by twenty-four inches, and is neatly framed in black. The lights and shadows are exquisitely defined, and the whole picture is a valuable addition to the Solid South room.

Orders for catalogues are rapidly coming in. Plaster casts of the monument to the New Market heroes, made in Lexington, Va., and contributed by the Virginia Military Institute through Adjutant-General Charles J. Anderson, have been given to the museum. The casts were made by Mr. Moses Eckel.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL UNION EFFECTED

Richmond Will Now Have An
Interdenominational Union of Sunday Schools.

THE CONSTITUTION ADOPTED

The first general movement to bring the Sunday school workers of the city together, with the idea of a perpetual union being established, was last night attended with a success that promises well for the future welfare and growth of the institution.

The organization of the co-workers in the Sunday school field was effected and a written constitution was adopted by a unanimous rising vote, there being about 400 people present in the Young Men's Christian Association Hall at the time. The movement has long been the pet project of the leading Sunday school workers, and the success it met with last night is an earnest that the movement has started with a firm basis.

There were two speakers last night, the third, Rev. R. V. Forsyth, being declined on account of illness. The meeting was greatly enhanced and made the more enthusiastic by the singing of several hymns in the dark. Mr. D. W. Sims, superintendent of the Pine Street Baptist Sunday school, acted as chairman, and introduced the speakers.

Mr. Bristow's Address.

The first speaker was Mr. F. H. Bristow, of Washington, who is said to be the superintendent of the largest Baptist Sunday school in the world in point of attendance. Mr. Bristow's subject was "Organization: What It Does." In his opening remarks, Mr. Bristow said that organization is absolutely necessary to the success of any body, and that organization results in the annihilation of all undertakings. Thorough organization is the greatest factor in Sunday schools, and, indeed, with any body that has a definite object in view, and with the aid of an organized body, the question before them now, he stated, is whether they are able to organize an interdenominational Sunday school union. He assured them that it is perfectly feasible, and illustrated the advantages of such an interdenominational union.

What Publicity Brings.

Rev. Dr. A. L. Phillips spoke on "Publicity: What It Brings." As in all matters of business and in organized bodies, the speaker showed that publicity is an essential to successful Sunday school work.

The Sunday school is not only the nursery of the church, but the university as well, and publicity should be so given to it as to draw in its folds every man, woman and child. People must be shown exactly what it does, the good it accomplishes and the lessons of Christian love and doctrine it teaches. There are about 1,000,000 pupils in the Sunday schools in the United States, and 1,000,000 comprising pupils, teachers and superintendents, who attend altogether. He demonstrated the fact that this number could be largely increased by the proper publicity given to it, and that it is the duty of Sunday school workers to publish its good to the world. He thought the Sunday school largely responsible for child education in the United States.

"Let the pastors proclaim the Sunday school," he said, "the church officers preach it, the women do all the work, the penitentials of their tongues, speak about it everywhere and at all times."

Constitution and Officers.

After the speakers had finished, the secretary of the Committee on Constitution read the constitution prepared, and it was adopted unanimously. Rev. Mr. Atkins moved that the committee also be appointed to nominate officers, and the motion was adopted. Votes of thanks were given to Mr. McKee, and a resolution of sympathy was passed for Mr. Forsyth, who was unable to be present on account of sickness.

Following is the constitution as adopted:

This organization shall be known as the Sunday-school Union of Richmond and vicinity. Its purpose shall be the promotion of Sunday school work, the dissemination of information concerning organization, history and methods, and the cultivation of a spirit of unity and cooperation among the regular meetings of the union, rallies, institutes and other means of mutual instruction. The officers shall be: president, first vice-president, second vice-president, third vice-president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary and treasurer. Duties shall be those usually performed by like officers of similar organizations. These officers shall be elected annually in May, and shall hold office until their successors shall have been elected and shall have entered upon the discharge of their duties.

The officers shall constitute an executive committee, which shall have the management of the union during the interim between meetings.

All vacancies in office shall be filled by the executive committee for the unexpired term.

The union shall meet in January, May and October, and may hold such other meetings as may be provided by the executive committee.

The executive committee shall provide a program of work for each meeting.

No business of a sectarian character shall be presented or discussed at any meeting of the union.

All officers, teachers and scholars of Sunday schools and pastors of churches, who are desirous of becoming members, shall be eligible to membership in the union.

These rules may be amended at any regular meeting of the union by a two-thirds vote of the members present.

Charged With Watch Stealing.
William Thomas, a negro, was arrested yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock by Officers Kuhn and Ogilvie, and will appear in Judge Court this morning to answer the charge of the theft of a watch from the show case in the jewelry establishment of Mr. J. Schumann, of No. 617 B Street.

The negro walked into the store and asked to see a watch key. He was with him several minutes, but did not leave them. Mr. Schumann was at his desk and saw the negro reach around the show case and take the watch. The negro dashed out of the door with Mr. Schumann in hot pursuit. The chase ended in an alley near Seventh and B Streets, and the negro was taken to the station-house.

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Mr. Sam Williams, Well-Known Barber, Died Suddenly at Noon.

MANY LOTS WERE SOLD

Messrs. Augustine, Royall and Company Dispose of Many Lots in Swansboro.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 1112 Hull Street.

Mr. Sam Williams, one of the best known barbers of the city, died yesterday at noon at his home on Hull Street, between Eighth and Ninth Streets. He was about forty-seven years of age, and is survived by a wife and two sons, Messrs. Joe and Raymond Williams.

While Mr. Williams had been in failing health for some weeks, his death was not expected, and when the news came, it was a great shock to his many friends. Fifteen minutes before he died he was sitting at the window of his home, and had been talking with several friends who passed the house. Death was sudden, and was due to heart disease. The funeral arrangements have not been completed as yet.

Many Lots Sold.

Messrs. Augustine Royall and Company yesterday sold at public auction about twenty lots in Swansboro, near the Midlothian Turnpike. The purchasers were Messrs. Joe Mitterdorf, John W. Moore, S. W. Walker, Mr. Williams and Mr. T. H. Kelly, the latter an ex-policeman of New York city.

The sale was attended by scores of persons from Manchester and Richmond, and the bidding was brisk from the very beginning. The land is a part of the large tract owned by the Center Heights Land Company.

After the sale a luncheon was served on the ground by the real estate people and the refreshments came from Moore and Burke's establishment at Fifteenth and Hull streets.

The sale of the lots recorded a new era in the real estate world here. Several gentlemen who purchased lots yesterday will, it is said, sell to-day at a good profit. All of the lots were bought for speculative purposes.

Moonlight Postponed.

On account of the cool weather the moonlight to Dutch Gap under the auspices of Central Methodist Church and Bainbridge Street Baptist Church, which was to have run last night, has been indefinitely postponed. Those holding tickets can get their money back by applying to the officials or to those from whom they bought the tickets.

On Friday night the Eagle Band, of the city, in connection with the ladies of Oak Grove Baptist Church, will run a moonlight to Dutch Gap, and this promises to be a very enjoyable affair.

In Cersley's Hall.

Colonel Bill Allen, Major Bill Hart and General Aaron Belcher appeared in Cersley's Hall last night and entertained a large audience for more than an hour with black-face specialties, singing and dancing.

Mr. James Botts was behind the scenes, and when he sang "Old Black Joe" the Colonel, Major and General were dancing and also singing, the house went wild with applause. It was the hit of the night, and the dog was put out of his misery. A crowd quickly gathered, drawn thither by the noise of the shots.

Personals and Briefs.

Misses Kate Sales and Rena Layne are the guests of Miss Ruth Crowder, of the city.

The Manchester postoffice will be open to-day from 10 to 11 o'clock in the morning. Only one collection will be made.

Members of the Eagle Band left Manchester last night at 7 o'clock, and will play in the parade in Portsmouth to-day, when President Roosevelt is to be there. The services over the remains of Mrs. Susanne Satchfield took place from Meade Memorial Church yesterday at 1 o'clock. The week. The three gentlemen are the best amateur entertainers in the city, and they lived up to their reputation last night.

The bazaar will continue through the week, under the auspices of Washington Camp, No. 32, Patriotic Sons of America.

Veterans to Assemble.

Members of the Joseph E. Johnston Camp, Confederate Veterans, will assemble at 2 o'clock this afternoon in their hall and prepare to go to Richmond in a body. The members will attend the unveiling services of the Smith statue, and from the Capitol Square will go to Hollywood Cemetery to attend the memorial services by the Hollywood Memorial Association.

There are many old "vets" in the city, and every one who can possibly go to Richmond will be at the hall this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Black Tongue Dog.

Considerable excitement was created on Hull Street, near Eleventh, yesterday afternoon, when Captain Lipscomb, chief of police, shot to death a dog that was running about the street snapping at every object in its path. The canine had what is known as the black tongue, and was very dangerous.

Captain Lipscomb fired several shots at the dog, but it did not stop. The body was sent to Petersburg for incineration. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. A. Shelly, Henry Walton, William Jewett, John W. Archer, W. W. Owen and Mr. J. Moore.

The Almshouse and Poor Committee will meet this afternoon at 6:30 o'clock and will visit the almshouse.

Mrs. W. H. Talbot, of Swansboro, fell yesterday afternoon and sprained her wrist.

Ira Jones has been summoned to appear before Mayor Maurice this morning and show cause why he should not be fined for contempt of court. He was ordered to appear in court in the city, and has failed to comply with the order.

A. F. Brown was yesterday granted a liquor license to conduct a saloon at No. 1317 Hull Street.

After an illness of several days, Miss Isabel White is able to be out.
